Lumber plants.....	1 Enlargement
Butane gas storage.....	1 New Plant
Concrete products.....	2 New Plants

The high level of industrial employment income was accompanied by increased farm production, higher land values and unprecedented consumer demand. Prices received by farmers were comparable to previous year and value of all crop increased 4 percent.

COTTON-COTTON SEED: Production of cotton lint and cotton seed decreased 17.9% and 16.9% respectively, with a decrease in value of 20%. The average yield per acre of 256 pounds lint compared with the previous high yield of 286 pounds per acre in 1944 and the ten-year average of 229 pounds per acre. Acreage harvested was the lowest since 1869 and much unpicked cotton remained in the fields at the end of the year, account of scarcity of farm labor. Cotton consumed by mills in Georgia decreased 3% compared to previous years.

FOOD-FEED CROPS: Production of food and feed crops increased over last year and supplies of forage crops and feed grains are fair. Large quantities of farm products were processed by local canneries and in the family kitchen. Weather conditions during planting and growing seasons variable, but generally favorable.

LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY: A slight decrease in number of beef cattle, hogs and work stock was accompanied by improved production and values with poultry remaining at same level as previous year. Dairy cows increased in numbers, production and values and dairy products made decided gains.

PEACHES: The peach crop was the largest since 1931. Production increased 76% and value 30% over 1944 and the unit price of $2.95 a bushel compared with $4.00 a bushel in 1944 and the previous ten-year average of $1.78.

GENERAL: Soil improvement crops, pasturage and soil conservation made good progress, reflecting improved farm practices throughout the territory. Fertilizer materials increased and despite shortages of labor, equipment, supplies and various restrictions, farmers did an excellent job of producing crops and their financial status improved.
